CPA/ABV/CFF, ASA, CVA, CBA, MST

Mark S. Gottlieb leads MSG's Business Valuation, Forensic Accounting & Litigation Support Practice headquartered in New York City. Backed by a substantial array of credentials that highlight his expertise, Mark specializes in financial matters, often the subject to litigation. These include shareholder disputes, business dissolutions, economic damage assessments, post-merger and acquisition conflicts, complex matrimonial matters, and an extensive range of forensic accounting and fraud examinations.

In the realm of financial investigations, Mark manages those engagements centered around appraising closely held businesses, uncovering alleged instances of asset misappropriations, untangling purported financial misstatements, and delving deep into the intricacies of corporate financial record-keeping. This investigative process frequently involves unraveling complicated financial documents, meticulously scrutinizing bank statements and accounting ledgers, and reconstructing financial records.

Mark's wealth of experience underscores his commitment to upholding the professional standards crucial in such intricate scenarios, which often includes evaluating the alignment of subjects' financial statements with the tenets of Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (GAAP). Many of the complex litigations he engages in stem from allegations of fraud, breaches of contractual representations and warranties, and a plethora of other business & financial claims.

Courts routinely appoint Mark and his firm to provide these services in these capacities. Beyond his court appointments, he serves as an expert witness, prolific author, engaging lecturer, and credentialed arbitrator.
